

The Achensee Holiday Card makes it all possible! It is valid for seven days and provides access to many attractions. The validity period starts when scanned for the first time. Holidaymakers can travel to lofty heights on the Rofan and Karwendel cable cars as often as they like, cruise on Tirol's largest lake with the three steam boats of the Lake Achensee shipping company, take a nostalgic trip from Jenbach to Maurach on Europe's oldest steam cog railway, or take a trip through time at the Lake Achensee Museum World in Maurach, the Vitalberg Tirolean Shale Oil museum in Pertisau, the Sixenhof local history museum in Achenkirch, the Notburga museum in Maurach, or at the Swarovski Crystal Worlds exhibition in Wattens.

How much does the Achensee Holiday Card cost?

The price for the Achensee Holiday Card per adult is EUR 69.00. For children accompanied by their parents and born between 2002 and 2010 the price is EUR 34.50. Small children born after 2011 are free. The Achensee Holiday Card can only be purchased by visitors holding a valid AchenseeCard (guest card).

Selling points of the Achensee Holiday Card

- At the Rofan cable car cash desk
- At the Karwendel cable car cash desk
- In the Information offices in Achenkirch, Maurach, Pertisau and Wiesing
- Many accommodation providers in the Achensee holiday region sell the Achensee Holiday Card directly

Visitors to the Achensee holiday region can only purchase this card with a valid AchenseeCard and are thereby entitled to exclusive bonus benefits and offers.

By showing your AchenseeCard in any of the above mentioned offices you can obtain the premium Achensee Holiday Card. Please don't forget to bring your AchenseeCard with you.

The Achensee Holiday Card is only valid during regular opening hours and regular timetables (extra tours and night trips are not included).

Additional information regarding conditions and opening hours can be obtained when purchasing the Achensee Holiday Card.

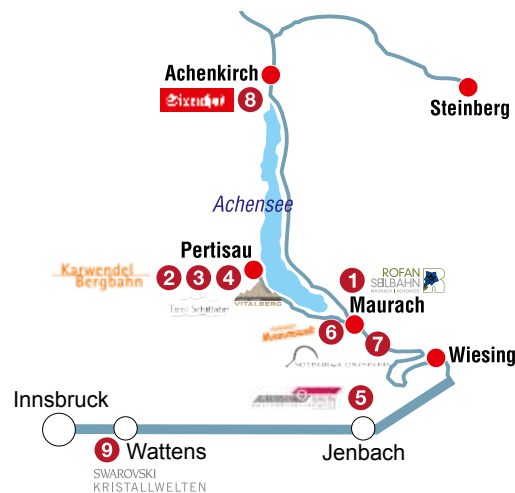

At some facilities additional costs may apply for the transport of sports equipment and dogs (only with secure muzzle). The various operators have individual prices and regulations.

When and where can I obtain the Holiday Card?

The Achensee Holiday Card can be purchased in any of the above offices with a valid AchenseeCard from Saturday, the 29th April until Monday, the 23rd October 2017. The card is then valid until the 29th October 2017.
